Commission hopes citizens bring budget input to forum

Jan. 31, 2012— Now's your chance to let City leaders know what is most important to you when it comes to the City's budget. The Deltona City Commission is offering Deltona residents the opportunity to provide their input at the upcoming Citizens' Budget Forum, 9 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 18, in the Commission Chambers at City Hall, 2345 Providence Blvd.

Staff from the City Finance Department will provide the Commission with updates on previous budget-balancing initiatives and describe current budget challenges. Then the City Commission hopes to elicit public input on budget recommendations for the 2012-2013 Budget.

In addition to public input, the budget forums are also designed to educate citizens about the budget process. For more information about the Citizens' Budget Forum, call (386) 878-8100.
